

That really makes my day!

Last week, we asked our readers: "If you could get an extra day off from school each week, what would you do?" From learning a new language to volunteering at a cancer recovery centre, here are our favourite answers

2 I would love to spend the extra day on a farm outside the city, walking in the countryside, watching the blue sky and soaking up the atmosphere. Most importantly, I can enjoy the hospitality of the farmers and eat fresh vegetables. This would help me recharge my batteries and prepare for my hectic school schedule.
