

Seeing things in a new light

Last week we asked our readers, "If you could change the colour of one thing, what would it be and why?" From red mosquitoes to colourful rain, here are our favourite answers

5 The colour of our skin. Racism and discrimination based on our skin colour is happening all around us. By changing our skin to the same colour, we can prevent people from categorising others and thus create a peaceful world.

Melissa Lam Kai-yu, 11
Chiu Chow Association Secondary school

